

Virtual office | Onboarding
Interactive virtual platforms for employees

We can create a virtual copy of your office
in the form of an interactive online platform.

Presentation of office, company and values

The platform is available in the form of a website. Users move in a virtual space with the use of a mouse and keyboard and complete interactive tasks.

The platform enables creation of modules dedicated to diverse functions - onboarding, training, engagement or corporate integration.

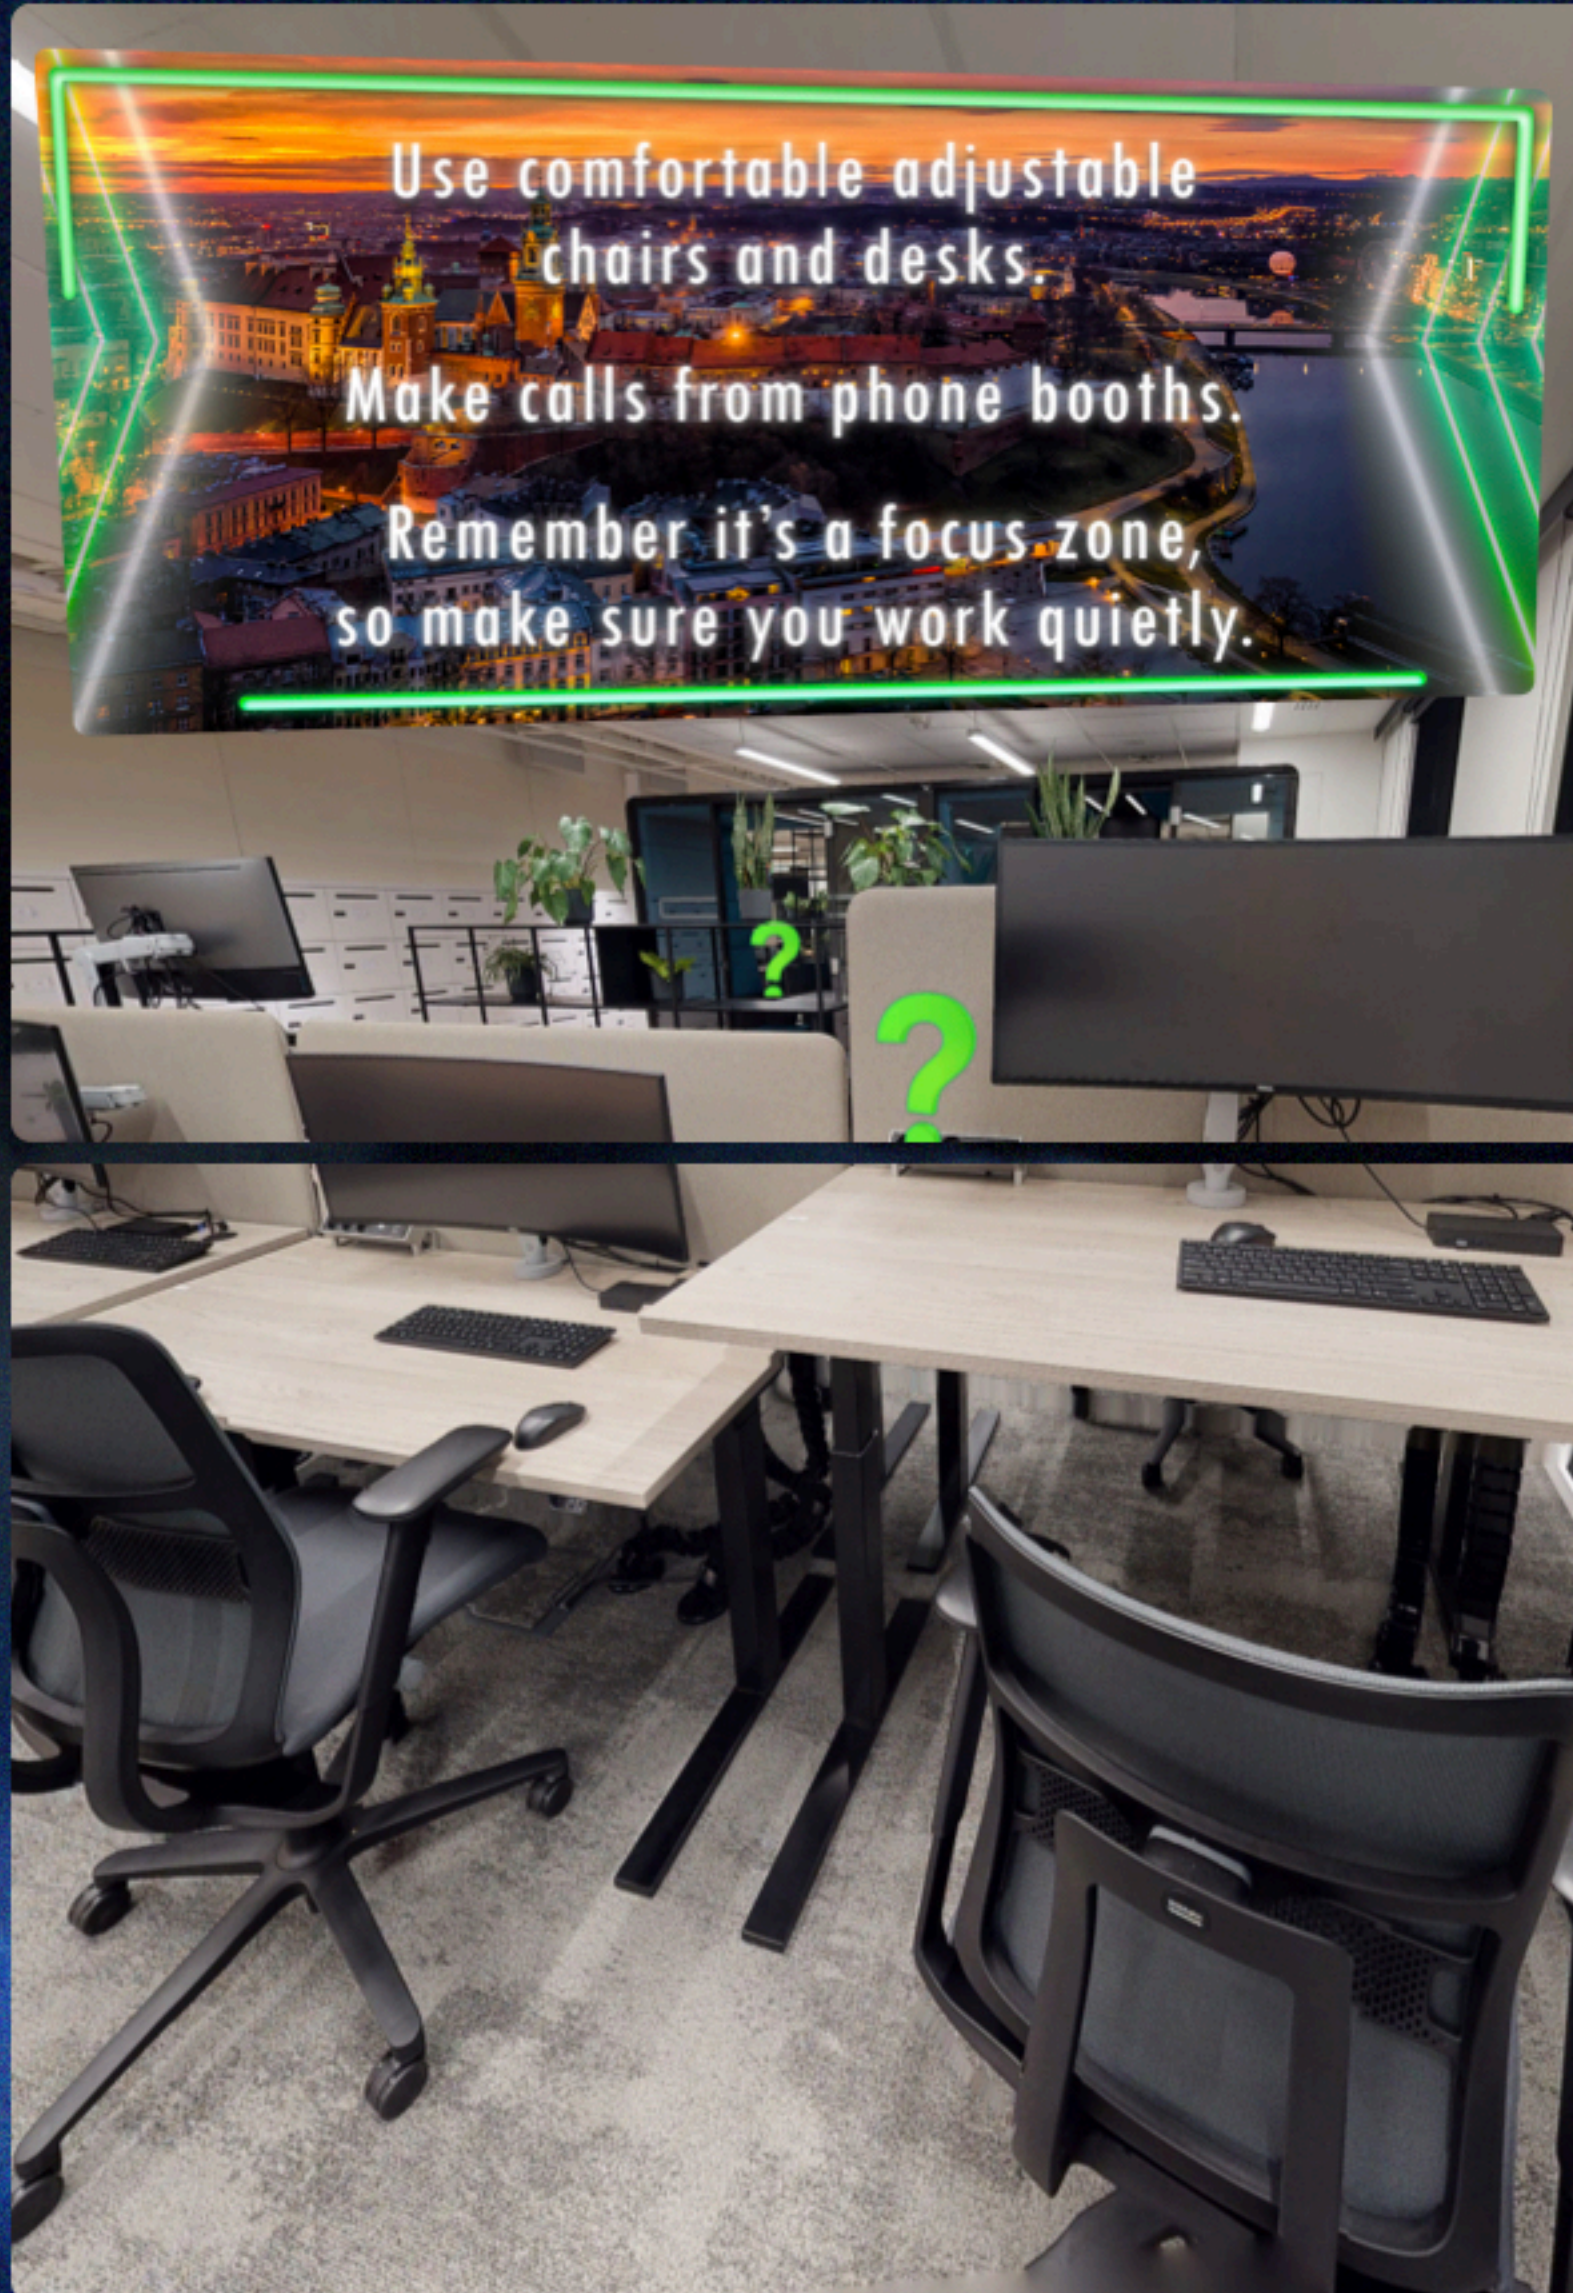

We guarantee top visual quality, engaging interactive activities, as well as the possibility of experiencing space through VR goggles.

We prepare engaging content based on the specific needs of an organisation. We make use of storytelling and gamification to deliver attractive and active reception of the content to the users.

Virtual engaging in your office

The platform can be used for, among others:

- Becoming familiar with a new office space
- New employee onboarding
- Office reminders and return incentives
- Promotion of novelties and informing about changes
- Learning the specific nature and work culture
- Getting to know the team and the company values
- Performance of virtual office trainings
- Use in the recruitment process (recruitment games)
- Use in recruitment promotion
- Supporting the modern image of an employer
- Employee engagement

Game or challenge in your office

Imagine that your virtual office becomes an active space for company games and challenges
- allows for engagement and rewarding of employees.

Imagine that the onboarding process is enhanced with games - making the communication of content more efficient and building the image of a modern employer.

Imagine that the virtual office is a place for interactive recruitment games, e.g. the process of competence assessment - assessment centre.

We have the possibility of offering offline assistance and carrying out a comprehensive dispatch of welcome packs and prizes (purchase, packaging, storage, dispatch).

Extra modules | Training modules

We can create and programme a virtual copy of any space apart from office e.g. a laboratory, a factory, a show-room or a test space.

We can produce a virtual training space where the employees can learn to actively perform various processes in a friendly and gamified mode.

Every training can end with a completion certificate, while the employer receives feedback about the progress and completion of training.

Sample virtual trainings: onboarding, evacuation safety, HSSE, company processes, instructions, implementation, etc.
